County digs out from severe winter storm

Haliburton County spent Tuesday digging out from one of the most severe winter storms in recent memory. And, even while the recovery was underway, nature continued to plague the area with frequent snow squalls and gusting winds.

The spring storm started early Monday morning as stiff easterly winds combined with a mixture of snow and sleet to slowly make travel more hazardous with each passing hour. By noonhour the blowing snow had severely reduced visibility on area highways and roads. The high winds also resulted in extensive drifting which added to the hazard of travel.

Early in the afternoon the Haliburton County School Board decided that conditions were deteriorating to the point where at 1:45, the schools were closed and students sent home.

Director of Education, Stuart Baker noted that earlier in the year, arrangements had been made with each family to have children stay with neighbours and friends if their parents were not home when the schools were closed early. In many cases, calls were made by the school officials to the homes of children to ensure that someone was there to receive the youngsters.

Business in the county took their cue from the schools, with many deciding to close early Monday afternoon sending employees home.

The storm also played havoc with mail service in the rural parts of the county. Postal officials report that some roads became impassable Monday and remained so on Tuesday, resulting in reduced mail delivery service in some areas. The blowing snow also presented a visibility hazard for the rural route drivers, so they returned to the post office with their rounds incomplete.

While the worst of the storm appeared to have passed by Tuesday morning, the school board again decided to close the schools throughout the county. Mr. Baker noted that

Soyers Lake property owner objects to solution

A proposed solution to a dispute involving the construction of a cottage on land formerly owned by the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has been criticized by the owner of the property adjacent to the cottage.

Mr. Brian Van Koughnett outlined his criticisms in an open letter to council. A copy of that letter appears on page 4 of today's newspaper.

In his letter, Mr. Van Koughnett refers to a solution that was agreed to by the Soyers Lake Ratepayers Association at a meeting in October of 1984. The Association passed a resolution recommending the conveyance of the unopened road allowance adjacent to the former municipal lot to Edward Cotton the present owner.

The association also recommended that the cottage owned by Cotton be moved 20 feet away from the Van Koughnett property and on to the conveyed road allowance.

In order to provide public access to Poverty Bay, particularly to the residents of the subdivision who do not have shoreline property, the association recommended that a pedestrian right-of-way be created between the two cottages.

Contacted by The Times, Brian Van Koughnett explained that when he originally purchased the property, he was informed that Block A was zoned Open Space and that "there would never be a building constructed on it."

Accordingly, he said, he angled his building away from his neighbours' property to ensure privacy only to discover last year that a cottage was being constructed at a distance of five feet from his property line and angled in such a way that the new neighbours could look directly into his dining room.

He pointed out that the Soyers Lake Ratepayers Association had recommended that the cottage constructed by Cotton be moved but that this recommendation was not contained in the proposal put forth by the municipal solicitor.

He added that the pedestrian right of way being proposed would not be created between the cottages but would instead cross the back of Cotton's property to the unconveyed portion of the road allowance.

Aside from his main criticism that the cottage would not have to be moved,

Van Koughnett questioned the enforceability of municipal Stop Work Orders. "What is the point of putting up a Stop Work Order if it is ignored?" he asked.

Van Koughnett emphasized that he would like to see the problem solved. "I would like to see the issue settled, he said, adding, "But I want an equitable settlement."

In commenting on Van Koughnett's letter to council, acting reeve, Ed Pergolas said the dispute, "is still in the hands of the lawyers and it is my understanding that they are coming to a solution." He pointed out that the letter from the municipal solicitor Fraser Rogers was only a proposal.

"Nothing has been decided yet," he said, adding, "Mr. Van Koughnett is way ahead of the game."

Pergolas said that the letter has not been brought to the attention of other members of council but it will be tabled at the next regular meeting of council scheduled for March 14.

Council approves new business

The construction of a retail home improvement centre in downtown Minden has received the blessing of Anson, Hindon and Minden council. The proposed facility will be owned and operated by John and Linda Pentney, owners of the Home Hardware store in Minden and will be located on Peck Street.

A report by the Planning Advisory Committee prompted council to invite the Pentneys to the regular meeting of council on Thursday to discuss the proposal.

The committee report stated that the property would have to be rezoned because the outlet would be a lumber supply yard rather than retail outlet and that there would be objections from nearby residents about noise from power saws and delivery trucks.

John Pentney said that the home improvement outlet will cater to the do-it-yourself handyman rather than building contractors and would offer a wide range of building materials and home improvement products.

He told council that all materials would be stored inside the building including lumber and cement blocks and that the saws would be operated indoors.

Pentney explained that trucks would make deliveries from Peck Street using the same route presently used by trucks making deliveries to the Home Hardware store. He emphasized that there would be no commercial traffic through the residential area along Anson Street.

Council agreed that the business would fit the definition of a retail outlet since there would be no outside storage of materials and that a rezoning would not be necessary.

Council then turned their attention to the property adjacent to the site of the proposed store.

The property was donated to the municipality by Mrs. Annie Cox for the sum of one dollar to provide a site for the old Minden Library. Following the construction of the Minden Library and Cultural Centre, the building was relocated and became the Minden Museum.

It was suggested that the

The quality of water in any area is of prime importance. In Nebraska, which was once known as the great American desert, people are understandably extremely concerned about both the availability and quality of water.

Irrigation turned our state from a dust bowl to a highly productive agricultural area. Located on the Ogallala aquifer the supply of underground water was once thought to be endless in Nebraska. It was not until recent years when the water level began to drop, that people became aware of a potential shortage of this renewable resource in the future.

The newly formed Nebraska Water Conservation Council held an all-day meeting recently, featuring speakers in the fore-front of current protection efforts and included a presentation of Nebraska's ground water quality strategy. The U.S. Department of Agriculture furnished a slide show on agricultural contamination sources and protection.

The program featured workshops on a variety of subjects: chemigation (the practice of putting agricultural chemicals through a circular sprinkler system), nitrates, pesticides, hazardous wastes and leaking storage tanks. The workshops also explored avenues for citizen organizing and lobbying.

Nebraska State Senator Chris Beutler is an acknowledged leader in ground water quality protection efforts. A major initiative in 1985 will be a passage of a measure to inspect and monitor underground gasoline and chemical storage tanks.

These efforts were given a real boost when the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announced that the Nebraska Department of Environmental Control has received a $100,000 EPA grant to aid the state in its ground water protection efforts.

The regional EPA administrator announced, "The grant is the first of its kind to be awarded to a state under Section 106 of the Clean Air Act and we are particularly pleased that Nebraska was the first in the nation to receive it. The state depends on ground water and their efforts to protect this precious resource are commendable."

Eighty percent of the state's population relies on ground water as a drinking water source and ground water is the primary water source in the state for irrigation, stock watering and other agricultural and industrial activities.

The grant will be used by Nebraska to carry out a comprehensive and innovative ground water protection strategy.

In the November election, local voters turned down a controversial proposal to build a dam on the Little Blue River southeast of Minden. An even more controversial project known as Norden Dam in north-central Nebraska was authorized by Congress in 1972. But opponents filed suit and a court order in 1977 halted the project before work on the dam started. A trial is scheduled to resume in June to try to lift the injunction.

However, the state of Nebraska recommended in January an ages-old system as an alternative to the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation's project to create a reservoir by damming the Niobrara River which would have provided water to irrigate 77,000 acres of cropland.

The alternative, called a gallery infiltration system, could irrigate 15,000 more acres of cropland for $150 million less than the cost of the original bureau project. This plan calls for burying a 12,500-foot perforated pipe, called an infiltration gallery; in a 25-foot trench parallel to the river about 25 feet back from the bank.

The pipe would be 12 inches in diameter at one end and gradually expand to 96 inches in diameter at the end that would run into a pumping station. Underground water would flow into the perforated pipe, sediments would be filtered out, and the water would be carried to the pumping station.

The water then would be pumped out of the Niobrara Valley through another underground pipe which would carry it 21 miles into a series of 135 injection wells, where it would be stored underground until it is pumped back to nourish crops.

The infiltration gallery would be used to irrigate land and recharge the underground water supply. The system and wells would operate about 10 months a year,

"over-recharging" the aquifer.

The study for a possible alternative was undertaken to try to resolve the controversy over whether water from the Niobrara River could be diverted to nourish croplands without damming the river. Opponents say the dam would damage an ecologically unique area and destroy about half of the state's most popular stretch of canoeing water.

Nebraska U.S. Senator J. J. Exon obtained $100,000 in federal money to have the state do an independent study of options and the state donated about $100,000 worth of services.

The Director of the Nebraska Department of Water Resources said the study included test drilling, pumping tests, laboratory simulation and examination of options and led state officials to conclude that the Niobrara valley contained enough underground water to use the gallery infiltration system. He also pointed out that the gallery infiltration systems have been used by cities and industries in the U.S. and abroad for many years and a forerunner is mentioned in the Bible.

The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation never studied using a gallery infiltration system, according to a spokesman. When bureau officials first planned the project, several decades ago, there was no well-field development in the area and recharging the aquifer was not a prime need.

Public opinion seems to be that the final decision on whether to build the alternative pipe plan instead of the bureau project will be a political one.

Snow storm socks county

many of the side roads in the county were impermeable and that blowing snow reduced visibility on village streets. "We felt it was best to have the children remain at home," he commented. "It just wasn't worth the risk." The director of education added that he felt only a few students would have made it to school on Tuesday even if enough teachers had been able to make it in for the day.

Speaking from his office in Haliburton, Mr. Baker noted that while he was at work, he had been forced to walk there to avoid the problems of snow clogged streets. "One of our employees arrived this morning by snowmobile," he added.

The task of cleaning up the mess left behind by the snow was complicated by the continuing gusty winds on Tuesday. Snow plough crews found that roads drifted in almost as quickly as they were cleared. The major highways in the county fared better as liberal applications of sand and salt helped to cut the icy crust.

Police report that there was no increase in accidents during the storm, a fact they attribute to drivers being more cautious under the adverse conditions and that most took their advice and stayed off the roads altogether.

No major disruptions were reported from the utility companies. An Ontario Hydro spokesman noted that several individual customers had been affected by the storm but no more than the usual number in cases of high winds.

A number of stores throughout the county remained closed Tuesday as merchants decided not to attempt to make the trek in. Those who were open, discovered that while they may have braved the weather to make it to their business, shoppers were reluctant to venture out of doors.

Tuesday evening colder temperatures and sharply reduced winds spelled the end to the severest part of the storm. The break will give roads crews and private snow clearing operators a chance to get an upper hand on the drifts and accumulated snow.

For the rest of us, it is simply a matter of waiting. As one resident pointed out optimistically as he heaved shovelful of snow over his shoulder, "The man who put this here will soon be taking it all away again."

New business

vacant property could be used as a parking lot. Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas told council that under the conditions of the agreement with Mrs. Cox, the land must be offered to both adjoining property owners if the municipality intended to sell the lot. Pergolas suggested that such action be taken and the proceeds of the sale given to the library.

Council agreed with the suggestion and also requested a written application for formal consideration of the proposed outlet.

Business sale announced

After several months of speculation, the owner of the Gull River Building Supplies, Mr. J. Earl Palmer, has announced that the business has been sold. Located on Highway 35 south of Minden, the business has been sold to Northern Planing Mills Company of Bracebridge. The actual transfer of ownership is scheduled to take place March 18.

According to a press release issued by Mr. Palmer, the new manager of the facility will be J. Malcolm Boyes, the vice-president of the parent firm. Mr. Boyes is a resident of the community of Vankoughnet.

Northern Planing Mills, which will be celebrating its sixtieth anniversary later this year, is a family owned business which currently operates two building supply outlets. The company owns Northern Buildall in Bracebridge and Normac Buildall in Mactier. The company has also operated Northern Plumbing and Electrical Supplies of Mactier.

The Highway 35 concern will be known as Gull River Homecare under Northern's management.

Postal disruption mailing procedure

A nation-wide postal strike is possible in Canada. In the event of a strike, it is unlikely that the local postal service will be disrupted, as employees at post offices in Haliburton County are not members of the union currently seeking a contract with Canada Post Corporation.

If a national strike is called, and if the local post offices remain open, The Times will continue to distribute subscription copies through the local postal services. Subscription copies of The Times destined for areas affected by the strike will be held at The Times office to be mailed as soon as regular postal service is resumed.

If local postal service is disrupted, Haliburton County subscribers, (box holders, rural routes served by post offices throughout the county, including Kinmount and Norland) will be able to pick up their copy of the newspaper from The Times office on Main Street North in Minden anytime after 10:30 a.m. each Wednesday. Unclaimed copies will be held until postal service resumes and then delivered in the usual fashion.

If a national postal strike occurs, we do not anticipate that local service will be affected. However, the foregoing comments are offered just in case the entire postal system is shut down.

Trio delights audience

Spring came a little early to the Highlands this past weekend courtesy of three performers who entertained an enthralled audience at the Wig-A-Mog Inn on Sunday evening.

The show was billed as an evening of song and featured the talents of pianist Melissa Stephens and singers Nancy Robichaud and John Miller. The musical presentation was a follow up on the Broadway Brunch presented last year by Nancy and Melissa.

The first show was such a success that the two artists decided on a repeat performance and asked John Miller to add his tenor voice to the program.

Nearly eighty people attended Sunday night's show to welcome spring and to celebrate life, love and friendship.

Melissa's expressive piano playing provided solid accompaniment to the solos and duets of John and Nancy. The singers harmonized on such old favourites as "Anything You Can Do", "Friendship", "It's Delovely" and "It's a Grand Night" that complemented the relaxed atmosphere of the evening.

Nancy excelled at such numbers as "Blues in the Night", "But not For Me" and "Pieces of Dreams."

John's best numbers were "If I Were a Rich Man" and a medley of old standards, "Like Someone in Love", "So Would I" and "Time After Time."

Among the highlights of the show was a humorous rendition of "Plant a Radish" that extolled the virtues of raising vegetables as an alternative to raising children and in a more serious vein, a beautiful version of the John Denver song "Perhaps Love."

The evening ended with the song "Friendship" that best summed up the interaction of the three performers.

Tip of the hat

It takes a storm, like the one we experienced early this week for residents to realize how reliant we are on the service of others. As the winds reached gale force Monday, roads throughout the county quickly became clogged with snow.

The heavy snowfall, complicated by extensive drifting, made travel hazardous. But as quickly as the main routes filled in with snow, snow clearing equipment was not far behind pushing the mounting burden back from the travelled position of the roadway.

It is not an easy task to keep the highways, roads and streets of the county open. The past few days tested the manpower and machinery of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, County Roads Department and the Road Departments of various municipalities. With few exceptions they met the biggest challenge of the winter of 1984-85.

There were, no doubt, areas which did not receive the immediate attention of the hard-working crews. However, considering the severity and duration of the storm, we feel all crews did an admirable job of keeping the roads open.

A tip of our hat to the men behind the ploughs, sanders and graders.

Winter wrinkles.

Watch for snow fleas

Imagine a group of animals more bizarre than anything from Star Wars. Some with great, globe shaped heads stuck to the apex of triangular bodies. Others resembling hairy legged sausages with bulbous antennae. Still other, with 12 eyes and long grasping feelers that recall prehistoric monsters. All with built in self-catapults, capable of 'firing' the beasts up to 65 times their length.

They're real! More than that, they have a series of behavioural, physical and life cycle adaptations more fantastic than science fiction.

Snow fleas are a primitive, wingless group of insects 2-3 mm. (1/10") long. They are totally harmless - in fact, beneficial - and live all around us - in meadows, forests, valleys, mountain tops, arctic and antarctic - everywhere. They are fantastically abundant - up to 45,000/square metre in forests. Yet, few of us even know they exist.

Late winter provides an ideal time to discover this group. Although abundant and more active during the summer, they're difficult to distinguish from the soil, bark and leaves on which they roam. During late winter many of these beasts ascend to the snow's surface, where, at first glance, they blend with plant debris. But have a closer look. You'll often find hopping or gyrating specks under the edges of trees or atop tiny melt pools.

Snow fleas - also known as springtails - appear in the fossil record as far back as 360 million years. In the ensuing period, they have evolved into about 2000 species; somewhat over 300 occur in North America.

They all show a unique adaptation. An oar-like, forked projection extends beneath their rear ends. Springtails are capable of pulling the outer end of this forked oar forward and latching it against their abdomen with a special organ. Springtails also secrete a remarkable chemical at the base of the oar. When compressed by the cocking action, this chemical develops huge internal pressure.

When the snow flea wishes to move quickly - to escape or cover large distances - it merely releases the latch, launching itself 13 cm or more. That's like you 'firing' yourself the length of a football field.

Other adaptations equip springtails for life in the snow; something which is

The following is an open letter written to the Anson, Hindon and Minden Municipal council regarding a piece of property on Soyers Lake. An article concerning some of the points raised here can be found on page one.

I have received a letter from your solicitor, Mr. Fraser A. Rogers, written to Mrs. Thomas H. Greer, Q.C., the solicitor acting on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cotton, being the registered owners of the above referred to lands.

The solution outlined in the letter is NOT the solution that was agreed to by the Soyers Lake Ratepayer Association or myself. An error has been made by both parties and as such I disagree with council arbitrarily giving a valuable piece of land (being half the road allowance) to someone who disobeyed a Stop Work Order and proceeded with the building of his cottage.

Had he obeyed the Stop Work Order the proposed solution probably would have been arrived at and the cottage located differently. The present location of Mr. Cotton's cottage, as close to the side line as is possible, has definitely decreased the privacy and enjoyment of my property. The angle on which it is placed allows them to look directly on to our deck and into our dining room.

You have given additional land to Mr. and Mrs. Cotton but you have not offered an equivalent compromise to Mr. and Mrs. Symonds of Hidden Valley. The way things stand the Township is admitting full responsibility and is not putting any responsibility on Mr. Cotton for disobeying the Stop Work Order. This is not correct. I wish to point out again the full situation.

1. The day Mr. Vasey's son came up to the lot to post the For Sale signs, he was made aware that the lot did not comply with the township bylaws that would allow a cottage to be built on it. He was surprised, however he said he would pass the information on to Gary.

2. Mr. Cotton was well aware of the bylaw restrictions prior to ever going to Vasey Real Estate to purchase the lot.

3. Also, my father again advised Mr. Cotton of the bylaw restrictions for building a cottage on the first day he appeared on the lot to start brushing it out.

4. Mr. Cotton relied strictly on the advice of Vasey Real Estate and their clout with the township council that a building permit would be obtained and he proceeded with his plans.

There are two wrongs. (1) It would appear that Mr. Cotton did not adhere to anyone's advice but went ahead figuring he would try to beat the system. (2) Council listened to the presentation made by Vasey Real Estate and incorrectly

Black leg blamed for death

A female moose that was recently transferred to Hindon Township by the Ministry of Natural Resources may have died from a disease that normally affects cattle and sheep.

The moose gained nationwide prominence when she joined a herd of cattle on a farm near Sebright, Ontario in September, 1984. Nicknamed Lucy, the moose was the subject of numerous television and newspaper reports and attracted large groups of visitors to the farm.

For most of her stay on the farm, Lucy caused few problems but after she injured one of the cows, the owner of the farm asked the MNR to relocate her. The moose was tranquilized then transported to Poker Lake in Hindon Township.

She was released, apparently without harm, on Tuesday, February 12, but died the following day.

A post-mortem examination conducted at the Guelph Agricultural College lists the tentative cause of her death as black leg disease, that was brought on by the bruise caused by the tranquilizer dart. The bacteria which causes the disease is an anaerobic organism that occurs naturally in the environment.

After being ingested by animals, it lies dormant in the muscles. If the muscle is bruised, it is deprived of oxygen carried by the blood and the bacteria can begin to produce toxins which can kill an animal within 24 hours.

The post-mortem examination uncovered a large bruise on the flank of the moose where the tranquilizer dart penetrated the skin. When the moose was released, her right leg was lame, an indication that toxins were perhaps already being produced.

Dave Atkinson, Fish and Wildlife supervisor with the Minden District Office of the MNR, supervised the transfer of the moose.

He pointed out that tranquilizer darts are commonly used to sedate moose and deer when tagging operations are carried out and were also used in the recent transfer of 32 moose from Algonquin Park to Michigan.

He said that he knows of only one case in which a moose may have died from black leg disease, adding that this is only conjecture. The biggest danger to the moose is an overdose of the tranquilizing drug, but as Atkinson pointed out, the dosage is based on the animal's weight and Lucy weighed only slightly less than the estimate made by the Wildlife Research Director who tranquilized her.

Further tests are being carried out at the Guelph Agricultural College to determine if the preliminary diagnosis is correct.

No ifs, ands or butts at Minden meetings

The Municipal Council of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden passed its own version of the Clean Air Act on Thursday, March 28. The members endorsed a resolution banning all smoking in the chambers during the regular meetings of council.

The war against smoking has been heating up in recent months with Councillor Gary Kenney making veiled threats that he and his fellow councillor Dave Stevens would be taking action to clear the air in the matter.

Late in the meeting on Thursday, during a lull in the proceedings, councillors Kenney and Stevens made their move. Kenney quickly wrote out a resolution on the standard form then passed it to his colleague across the table. Stevens seconded the resolution then, with a dramatic flourish, laid it on the table in front of councillor Pat Burk.

Burk read the document, smiled, took several drags on her cigarette then stubbed out the butt in the ashtray. Turning to her non-smoking colleagues, she announced that she would support the resolution, adding that it would be good discipline.

All eyes then focussed through the blue haze, on acting reeve Ed Pergolas in anticipation of a final rear guard action.

The Chambers became silent save for the sound made as Pergolas tapped his cigarette package on the table.

The acting reeve gazed around the room, perhaps realizing that he was witnessing the end of an era and that things would never be the same again in the hallowed halls of municipal government.

Then turning to his colleagues he said in a firm voice, "All right, but I won't sign this (resolution) until the end of the meeting."

The war against smoking has been won by the clean air forces, but the smoke did not clear after the battle, in fact, visibility was significantly decreased as the smokers in the room enjoyed their last defiant taste of freedom.

The resolution does not mean the era of smoke-filled back room politicking is over in the municipality, for as one shadowy figure said quietly through the miasmic gloom, "We can still smoke in the committee meetings."

issued a Building Permit. Mr. Cotton has not only succeeded in beating the system, but he has seriously damaged the credibility of the Bylaw Enforcement Officer and the Township Council. In effect, the die has been set for anyone to build what they want, where they want, without listening to the Bylaw Enforcement Officer or complying with the requirements of the Ontario Building Code.

Nothing has been mentioned about any penalty being imposed on Mr. Cotton for ignoring a township Stop Work Order or the fact that his deck railings do not comply with the Ontario Building Code. Will these things just be overlooked?

The whole problem is more than just a zoning problem and the slate cannot be wiped clean just by giving in and giving Mr.

Cotton a very valuable piece of shoreline (at no cost whatsoever to him) without a similar compromise by Mr. Cotton. Granting of a right-of-way over the rear portion of his lot to provide access to the lake for the rear lots 1,2,10 and 11 is not an acceptable compromise by itself.

The principal parties involved with this problem (Soyers Lake Ratepayers Association, Mr. & Mrs. Symonds of Hidden Valley Cottages, Mr. Ross, owner of lots 1,2,10 and 11, or myself) have never been approached by the township or their solicitor or anyone else, to determine whether the proposed solution would be acceptable.

The solution offered is all one sided in Mr. Cotton's favour and as such I do not agree that it is an acceptable compromise.

Brian D. Van Koughnett,
Unionville, Ontario.

Snow fleas

almost inconceivable for cold-blooded animals. Most insects can't cope with the cold, and grind to a halt, hibernating or dying outright.

Snow fleas have developed a natural antifreeze. When the temperature plummets, these insects produce glycerol, a sugar alcohol, and secrete it into their body fluids. The presence of glycerol can lower springtails' freezing temperature to as low as -22 degrees Centigrade. Snow fleas stop eating for the winter - they can't endure ice in their stomach.

And, springtails head for the right place at the right time. During the depths of winter, they stay beneath the snow's blanket. In late winter, when the sun reaches a steeper - stronger - angle, they come to the surface and bask in the sun. Their dark bodies - like black objects in the snow - convert the sun's radiation to heat. On cloudy or windy days, they dig down a little, blanketing themselves with snow.

Being atop the snow seems to provide an ideal place for snow fleas to court and to breed early. On the really warm, melt days, springtails congregate around little melt pools. The hairs that cover their bodies hold them atop the water, much the way a feather floats. If you look at a tiny pool, in a footprint or ski trail, you'll often see a churning mass of spring-tails.

If you look more closely still, you'll see that it's an elaborate courting dance by many separate pairs. The male deposits a microscopic packet of sperm on the pool's surface, then takes hold of the female using grasping antennae. And, he dances her over the packet, which she puts into her body. The female then begins laying eggs, which float about until the pond eventually dries up, leaving eggs stuck to all manner of debris. The microscopic hatchlings, come spring, will feed voraciously, growing quickly to adult size.

HHSS teachers sign contract

After nearly a year of negotiations, the Haliburton County Board of Education and teachers at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School have reached a settlement on the 1984-85 contract.

The settlement was announced in a statement prepared jointly by the salary committees representing the Board of Education and the Ontario

Secondary Teachers of Haliburton County.

The agreement gives a 3.7% increase to each position on the teachers' salary grid. The only change in fringe benefits was an increase from 75% to 85% in the Board's subsidy for OHIP premiums.

The settlement was reached with the assistance of a Fact Finder appointed by the provincial Education Relations Commission.

Christine Torry, a Toronto lawyer, was appointed January 11 to assist in the salary negotiations which began in January of 1984.

The Fact Finder's report was based on briefs submitted by both groups and separate meetings that were held in late January.

The statement notes that the Province of Ontario has used a record number of Fact Finders to assist Boards in reaching settlements.

Less than half of the Boards in the province have reached a settlement with the teachers for the 1984-85 contract.

Teachers voted overwhelmingly to accept the contract with the Haliburton Board on February 22.

Engineer will monitor bridge

A single lane concrete bridge that spans the boundary between Minden Township and Stanhope Township is being monitored to determine if the structure is sinking.

The monitoring of the bridge on the Crooked House Road off Highway 118 is being done by the municipal engineer of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden on the instructions of council.

A study conducted this past winter by the municipal planning consultants, Totten, Sims and Hubicki describes the bridge as being in poor but stable condition and notes that the structure has settled since being constructed.

Acting on the report, council passed a resolution establishing a 9 ton load limit and instruction the municipal engineer to place a bench mark on the structure and to make periodic inspections of the bridge to determine if further settling is occurring until "remedial actions are taken."

According to a report prepared for the township last year, the bridge had been weakened several years ago when a beaver dam broke. The resulting rush of water washed out the supporting material on the bridge's northern abutment. The bridge then acquired a tilt to one corner and various cracks appeared.

The report noted that the bridge had a safe load limit of 20 tons in 1977.

Police investigate thefts

Police are currently investigating the theft of a number of outdoor recreational vehicles. The machines were taken during the past week.

A 1980 Ski-Doo Blizzard Model 5500 was reported missing from the Prentice-Berry yard on Highway 35 south of Minden Sunday morning. The machine was valued at $1600.

The investigating officer is Constable Dave MacMartin.

Two 1983 model Honda ATCs were taken from a garage in the Salerno Lake area sometime between February 10 and March 2 when the theft was reported. The machines are the property of Wilhelm Harfmann of Whitby. They are valued at $3500.

Constable Brian Dunham is the investigating officer.

Van destroyed

A Bell Canada service van was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon in Haliburton village. The vehicle, a 1981 grey Ford van, was being driven by Bell employee Ronald Honig of Lakefield, when it burst into flames. The driver was not injured. Police have been unable to determine the cause of the blaze. Damage was estimated at $6000.

Accident

The driver of a 1979 Ford pick-up truck sustained minor injuries after the vehicle he was driving left the roadway and struck a pole. The mishap occurred March 2 on the Peterson Road in Minden Township.

The driver of the vehicle was 18 year old Kevin Forbes of Minden. He was taken to Minden hospital and treated, following the mishap. The vehicle sustained $2500 damage.

Constable Barry Connelly is the investigating officer.

Council sets fees

A bylaw prescribing the tariff of fees for the processing of applications in respect of planning matters was passed at the regular meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council on Thursday, February 28.

The bylaw sets fees for five types of application and outlines the policy on deposits.

The fees for application to the municipality are as follows:

(1) Severance application. (1 parcel severed; 1 parcel retained.) $150. The fee for each additional parcel created is $75. The term "parcel" shall include a building lot, right of way or any separate piece of property created either for retention or for addition to an adjacent property.

(2) Minor variance application - $150.

(3) Application for a certificate of Occupancy -

$50. (A certificate of occupancy is required when a seasonal dwelling becomes a permanent home.)

(4) The initial deposit for an application for an Official Plan or zoning bylaw amendment is $350 of which the first $100 is a non-refundable fee.

(5) The initial deposit for an application to process a draft plan of a subdivision is $500, of which the first $200 is a non-refundable fee.

The bylaw also outlines the municipal policy regarding payment of the refundable portions of the deposit and the responsibility of the applicant for additional costs.

Transfer payments decrease

- by John Eakins, MPP -

It appears that Larry Grossman could very well burden the property taxpayers of Ontario.

The Toronto Globe and Mail indicated in a recent story that provincial transfer payments to municipalities, hospitals, schools and social service agencies will increase by only 3.0 to 3.5 per cent in 1985-86. This would be the lowest level of increase in more than a decade.

I have little doubt that the story is correct, for such marginal increases would continue his tradition of passing costs for essential services on to local taxpayers. Total transfers to municipalities and local agencies have been below the rate of inflation for the past three years. With inflation forecast to run about 3.7 per cent next year, there is no respite in sight for local taxpayers. In the case of schools, the Executive Director of the Ontario Public School Trustees Association reports that every single input cost has increased at well above three per cent.

Two years ago, the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing told municipalities to cut services because no substantial funds would be forthcoming from the province. He lectured that the municipalities had "programs they can very well eliminate without reducing the important safety and protection services to the people of their community", but then refused to give any examples of unessential services. In his budget last year, Larry Grossman had the gall to lecture municipalities on restraint while claiming "we have been generous" in providing a five per cent transfer increase. Neither Minister mentioned that their own government's burgeoning payments to consultants, the ever-growing Suncor waste, or the $1 billion in idle landbanks.

Even with global transfers set at five per cent last year, many individuals allocations were far lower as a result of the formula used to calculate grants. A number of municipalities received transfer increases of only 2.5 per cent. In fact, had it not been for heritage language and french instruction grant provisions, the City of Toronto Board of Education would have been required to pay money to the province, based on the convoluted funding formula. If this year's levels are set at 3.0 per cent or so, those at the lowest end of the scale may receive virtually no increase — and some may have to send a cheque to Queen's Park.

All of this is of particular concern given the inequitable nature of property taxes. Ontario should be looking to shift the burden more on the progressive income tax system, not moving in the opposite direction.

Haliburton defeats Minden in seesaw battle

A pair of goals in the dying minutes of the third period lifted the Haliburton PeeWees to a 5-4 win over Minden in a consolation playoff game at Minden Arena on Saturday.

Minden lost the seesaw battle in spite of a three goal performance by their captain Kent Taylor.

The game remained scoreless until John Vuksic put Haliburton up by a goal with only 27 seconds remaining in the first period. The second period was dominated by Minden. At the three minute mark Kent Taylor scored an unassisted goal to tie the game.

Randy Bull put Minden ahead by a goal with an assist from Kent Taylor, then with a minute and a half remaining in the period Kent scored his second unassisted goal.

The tide of the game turned again early in the third period when Jason Billings knocked in a goal on an assist from Brian Waller. Three minutes later Kyle Hewitt scored an unassisted goal to tie the game at 3 all.

Minden went ahead again when Kent Taylor picked up his hattrick on another unassisted goal.

Minden held the slim one goal lead until the last two and a half minutes of play when Jason Billings scored his second goal of the afternoon to tie the game.

With a minute and 53 seconds left, Jason Morissette knocked in the winning goal after taking a pass from John Vuksic and Hans Fluegel.

In other action on Saturday at Minden arena, the Minden PeeWees "B" team hosted Ops in the consolation round of the Tri County League playoffs. Led by the strong offensive play of Derek Moore, Minden skated to an 11-2 victory.

The series continues in Millbrook on Saturday when Minden plays a regular schedule playoff game that is included in the Millbrook Tournament.

Derek Moore and Steven Schrader raise their arms in victory as the puck slips past the Ops goalie during a Tri-County playoff game Saturday at Minden arena.

Five goal attack leads Hall's to playoff win

A five-goal blitz in the third period gave Hall's Insurance a 9-5 win over Home Hardware in the Minden Men's Recreational League playoff game at Minden arena on Thursday February 28.

The two games scheduled to be played on Monday, March 4, were cancelled due to the snowstorm. The league executive has tentatively scheduled those games for Monday, March 18.

The victory on Thursday lifted Hall's into first place in the playoffs, a position they share with the Rockcliffe Foamblowers who also have a 3-0 win/loss record.

In Thursday's game, the teams remained tied at 2-2 at the end of the first period. Hall's went ahead 3-2 with a goal in the last minute of lay in the second period then scored five straight goals in the third period before Home knocked in a pair in the last minute and a half of play. With only six seconds left in the game, Hall's added another marker to take the game 9-4.

Lawrence Loughed and Joe Giles scored a pair of goals each in their team's win. Loughed also added an assist.

Other pointgetters for Hall's were Casey Cox, a goal and an assist, Barry Vanesse, a goal and an assist, Barry Walker, a goal, Peter Walker, a goal, Dave Dollo two assists, Randy Anderson an assist and Mike Jackson an assist.

John Barkwell led the scoring for Home with a pair of goals. Carl Northey with a goal and an assist and Dean Hewitt with a goal rounded out the scoring.

Assists went to Joe Mitchell with three and Jim Keetch and Jerry Poirier with singles.

Playoff action resumes on Thursday, March 7 when Hartwick Construction faces off against Vasey Real Estate at 9 p.m. The two teams are tied in the playoff standings with one win and two losses apiece. Admission to the games at Minden arena is free.

Tyke tournament

-submitted-

On Saturday February 23, four tyke teams played in the annual Minden Tyke Tournament. Teams from Minden, Haliburton, Huntsville and Oakwood competed.

In the first game, Minden defeated Oakwood 4-2 in an evenly played match. Scoring for Minden were Jeff Wray with 2 goals, Ryan Ladurantaye with one goal and one assist and Dennis Woods with one goal. Assist went to Donald Todd, Craig Jewett and Justin Rowden.

The second game pitted Haliburton against Huntsville ending up with a 13-0 score for Huntsville.

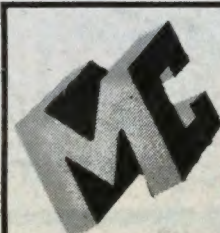

Haliburton got on track in the consolation final against Oakwood winning 6-4 in a game that was tied down to the last two minutes.

The championship game had Huntsville against Minden and despite a strong effort by the Minden team, they ended up on the wrong end of a 9-0 score. This was Minden's first loss of the season, having previously defeated Haliburton twice and Fenelon Falls.

Many donations made this a successful day. Frontier Motors, The Men's Hockey League and Northland Sales donated trophies and medallions for all the teams. Highlands TV donated video movies. Cathy King supplied donuts. Brian Ladurantaye organized entertainment for the teams between games. The Minden Tyke parents rented the arena hall as well as supplying their assistance and enthusiastic support.

Minden Monarch goalie Vince Duchesne watches the flight of the puck after stopping a shot during a playoff game at Minden arena on Saturday. Duchesne was involved in several collisions during the fiercely played contest but was unaffected by the bruising action as he allowed only three goals during the game. The Juveniles won the game 9-3 and now hold a two to one lead in the Ontario quarter finals against Erin.

Juveniles one game away from quarter final victory

The Minden Monarchs Juveniles are only one game away from winning their Ontario quarter final playoff series after trouncing Erin 9-3 at Minden arena on Saturday. The Monarchs had a chance to end the series with a three game sweep on Sunday, but lost 4-2 in Erin.

Boomer Stamp had a six point game, scoring four goals and contributing two assists in the second game of the series in front of a large crowd of hometown fans.

The tone of the game was set right from the opening faceoff. Nine seconds into the game, an Erin player was sent off for elbowing and eleven seconds later Boomer Stamp knocked in a goal after taking a pass from Doug Schell and Dennis McKee.

With four minutes left in the period, Barry Boice put Minden ahead 2-0 on an assist from Bernie Upton and Jeff Howe. Two minutes later Erin got on the board to end the first period with Minden ahead by a goal.

At the four minute mark of the second period, Boomer Stamp took a pass from Lennie Johnston at the Minden blue line, skated into the Erin end and blasted in a booming slapshot.

The Monarchs displayed excellent puck control on their next goal when Boomer Stamp drew the Erin defence to the front of the net then passed to Bernie Upton who fed Barry Boice in front.

Barry beat the Erin goalie for his second goal and Minden had a 4-1 lead.

Erin added another goal on a power play to end the second period with Minden ahead 4-2.

Penalties were costly to Erin in the third period. At one point there were five Erin players in the penalty box. Erin was assessed 32 minutes in minor and ten minutes in majors during the game.

The Monarchs were called for 13 minor penalties.

In spite of the penalties, Erin goalie Darren Cook held Minden scoreless in the third period until the 8:49 mark when Boomer Stamp knocked in his third goal after taking a pass from Jeff Howe.

Erin was playing two men short when Bernie Upton scored a minute later on a pass from Barry Boice.

Scot Hamilton put the Monarchs ahead by five goals two minutes later with an assist from Bernie Upton then Jeff Howe made it 8-2 after Jason Stamp fed him from a pileup. Boomer Stamp got the second assist.

With only a minute remaining, Erin scored their third goal on a slapshot from close range.

Boomer Stamp capped off the game with 30 seconds remaining after taking a pass from Jeff Howe at the point and driving in a hard slapshot.

After remaining unbeaten in the round robin playoffs and the quarter finals, the Monarchs went down to a 4-2 defeat in Erin on Sunday.

Erin opened the scoring in the first period. Monarch forward Doug Schell tied the game 1-1 on a pass from Chris Laporte then Erin went ahead again scoring once to end the first period and again to make it 3-1 halfway through the second period. Scot Hamilton narrowed the gap two minutes later scoring an unassisted goal.

Musher surveys racing year

The dog sled racing season is almost over for another year, particularly for the mushers in this part of the world. There are, however, a number of big races coming up in Alaska and the Yukon.

Organizer of the sled dog derby in Minden this year, Val Loughheed, has prepared the following report on these big races, the other events which local teams competed in and a look ahead to the 1986 dog racing season.

While we in Ontario are eagerly anticipating melting snow, warmer days and 'rubber boot' weather, Alaskans and Yukoners are just gearing up for their big spring race season.

March 2 signals the start of the world famous 1,049 mile Iditarod Race - running from Anchorage to Nome, Alaska. The race takes about 2 weeks for mushers to complete...travelling over some of the most barren, forbidding wilderness known to man or woman. Last year, Dean Osmer from Clam Gulch, Alaska won the race in 12 days, 15 hours, 7 minutes and 33 seconds; just a scant hour ahead of the second place finisher Susan Butcher from Manley, Alaska. The first Canadian finisher was Larry Smith from Dawson City, Yukon in tenth place. A total of 46 teams ran the 1984 Iditarod - hailing from as far away as Norway, Great Britain and Italy.

This March 2nd weekend also witnesses the start of the 1000 mile Yukon Quest - a gruelling race beginning in Whitehorse and finishing up in Fairbanks.

Every weekend in March features big two and three day races throughout Alaska and the Yukon, drawing competitors from all over the world. The Northwest Territories will attract a large field for its 150 mile Canadian Championship Dog Derby the last weekend in March. We are talking hot competition and big bucks for all those running their teams in the North!

As for the Ontario scene, it has been an excellent year as far as conditions go. Lots of snow and continuous cold weather have made for a busy circuit that began, of course, with the race in Minden.

The weekend after Minden, many of us headed up to Verner, to a regular race put on by the Northern Ontario Sled Dog Club. Local favourite Gary Pringle captured first place in the 4 dog competition while I followed 30 seconds behind him for second place. Steve Loughheed finished fourth in the 8 dog class which was won by Gaby Durette of Sturgeon Falls.

The last weekend of January witnessed a small Ontario contingent trekking off to Saranac Lake, New York for the Alpo International. This is a 3 day race drawing well over 100 competitors from all over the world. It was a disappointing show this year for Ontarians. Steve was the first Ontario driver, finishing in twenty-second position in a field of 40. We all have a long way to go in this game!

Back in Ontario for the first weekend in February, when many of us went to a race in Marmora. Tom Soper, winner of the 4 dog Minden race met the challenge by running in the 150 mile Long Distance Championship. He finished a very respectable fifth. In the 7 mile dog sprint, Steve Loughheed finished seventh overall out of a field of 38. Gary Pringle came in sixteenth and I came dragging my heels in for a twenty-second position finish. Moe Poirier, who finished second in the Minden 8 dog, ran an excellent race to first position in Marmora. This same weekend, some drivers went down to Adams, New York. Leigh Gilchrist, who finished first in the Minden 8 dog came tenth in a very competitive 10 dog class.

On February 9 and 10, Steve and many others went to Ottawa-Hull for a race held in conjunction with the Winterlude Carnival. Gary Jareo, from New York State won this race; Steve came in ninth and Leigh Gilchrist came in third. This same weekend, the Pringles, myself and a number of other south-central Ontario mushers ran a one day race in Wasaga Beach. The 3 dog was won by Steve Bain - who made a vast improvement over his eighteenth place finish in the 8 dog in Minden. I came in fourth and young Tina Pringle finished ninth in her very first 3 dog race. A 6 dog race was also run but unfortunately the stop watches froze and no results could be obtained.

February 16 and 17 had us all packing up to Northern Ontario again to a two day race in Webbwood. Ken Heald, who finished third in the 4 dog in Minden, won the 4 dog event. I came in fourth and finally beat Gary Pringle who came in sixth (gotcha, Pringle). Steve completed the 8 dog race in sixth position overall. Gaby Durette, who came in eleventh in the 8 dog in Minden had a great run to finish first.

Right now, we are all relaxing, taking a breather and wondering if we can get the dogs back in shape to go to the final Ontario race this season up in Matheson this weekend.

After racing is over, most of us will start training last summer's puppies and do some fun running with friends. The dogs especially enjoy this time of year because there is no pressure...and so do we. Of course, we are all speculating about buying a new dog, selling an old one or breeding the right male and female to produce that

"super dog" team for next year.

Next year

The Minden race was very well received by the drivers who attended. We asked participants to fill out a questionnaire following the event giving us their thoughts on this race.

Some comments are as follows... "fantastic event, the tops for 1985." "Unbelievable spectator interest." "The trail marshal help was excellent." "Great Community involvement." "Humungous hills." Anyway, I do believe that many of the drivers will return next year. And with that in mind, the Sled Dog Committee has already begun to meet to start planning for next year's event.

If you want to get involved or have some comments to offer, please contact Gary Kenney, Stuart Brandon, Jack Brezina or myself.

See you next year.

The Haliburton County Information Centre is alive and well and very pleased to say that we have been able to help so many citizens in the county for the past two and a half years in finding solutions to problems, answers to questions and assisting people with various government programs and applications.

All inquiries that we receive are confidential and our service is free of charge. To provide information, we maintain extensive resource files of local services and government agencies, departments and their functions along with a wide variety of pamphlets.

The Centre has succeeded mainly through the co-operation of volunteers who have so generously donated their time and effort in order to carry on a much needed service. This year we are hoping to expand on our services and can only do this through the aid of more volunteers.

If you feel you would like to be part of our centre why not drop in and see how we operate and what our volunteers program is all about. After becoming more familiar with our centre and what we have to offer, I'm sure that you will agree it is something which is valuable to our community and rewarding in knowing that we help many people.

Tourism important to this region

- by Bill Scott, MP -

As the Member of Parliament for Victoria-Haliburton, I have a keen awareness of the importance of tourism to the economy of our country. Few residents of our area are not in some way touched by this $18 billion a year industry, the second largest industry in Canada. For many years, I have worked actively on our Party's Caucus Committee on Tourism. I was quite pleased when a separate ministry was created to deal with Canadian tourism policy.

To seek comments and suggestions on ways to improve Canada's tourism industry, the Hon. Tom McMillan, Minister of State for Tourism produced a consultative paper, "Tourism Tomorrow". It was released on Monday, February 18. This publication raises five major questions and challenges all of us to answer them:

1. What must we do to achieve a higher level of professionalism and to compete more effectively with the leading tourist nations?

2. Can we agree to promote selected attractions year by year, to focus on our strongest travel generators — large and small, urban and rural, regardless of region — in order to appeal to large numbers of tourists? Will this approach not increase the total market from which each community can draw visitors?

3. Can we find ways to co-ordinate advertising efforts of various sponsors — federal, provincial, territorial, municipal, private sector — in order to project consistent, compatible messages about Canada?

4. Are we prepared to raise the standards of performance in the tourism industry? And are we prepared to provide the training and upgrading needed to meet those higher standards?

5. Mindful of our obligation to reduce the national deficit, how can we promote and expand our tourism industry without high levels of government spending?

These are the kind of questions that must be answered if we are to reverse the decline in Canada's share of world travel receipts that has taken place over the past ten to twelve years. Only by establishing a comprehensive plan can we effectively deal with our $2.2 billion a year deficit in world travel receipts.

If you have any concrete ideas and suggestions that you feel could help in developing a tourism strategy, please send them to: The Hon. Tom McMillan, Minister of State for Tourism, C.D. Howe Building, 235 Queen Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0H6, attention: Tourism Tomorrow.

The following short report comes from our friends at Staunworth Court and keeps us up to date on the happenings there. Thanks to AFS for bringing it in and brightening our day.

The evening of February 28 was a most enjoyable one for the residents of Staunworth Court as they were entertained by Shirley and Murray Davis and their group of musicians. Due to the illness of Sadie Kitchman, one of the entertainment committee for that evening, Henry Howe introduced the group. May we say in passing that Shirley is the lovely daughter of Henry and Vera Howe. Several songs were sung as solos, duets and group in harmony accompanied by guitars, accordion and violin. One song, sung by Shirley, "Show a little kindness" told so well the attitudes shown and practised here in our Staunworth Court by our residents and our managers, Corinne and Hector Arsenault. A lovely song, "The First Dance" was sung by the group for Mary and Albert Stata on the occasion of their 46th wedding anniversary. So fitting was the closing song "One day at a time" that after Albert Stata thanked the group for their kindness in entertaining us and wished Sadie a speedy recovery, we called it a day with them and finished off with a lunch prepared by Florence Lindsay and a very appetising cake made by Melissa Hampson for Mary and Albert's anniversary.

We were very sorry to hear that Grace Coburn had a severe fall recently. Trust you will soon be back on your feet Grace. You will be sorely missed around town.

The Minden Red Cross annual general meeting and dinner will be held Wednesday, March 27 at Minden Curling Club. Tickets are available from Paul Heffer at Minden IDA drug store. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Sincere sympathy to Pat and Lucille Clark who recently lost their grandson in Calgary. Sympathy also to the families and friends of the late Ethel Boice and Cassie Legge (Hounsell).

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Dear Readers, Saturday the 23rd was my 91st birthday. Everything started out in the usual way, until we sat down, our lunch to partake, we were served along with our lunch, made by our cook, Michael O'Mara, a delicious birthday cake. Then about 7 p.m. Saturday night my family came, really quite a sight, with another birthday cake and other good things to eat, it really was a real treat. I thank our daughter June for planning all this. I not only received some lovely presents, but I got hugged and kissed. At this time I would like to say a big thank you for all who sent me birthday cards, best wishes and to government officials who sent me lovely congratulations plaques, I just want to say "GOD BLESS YOU ALL FOR REMEMBERING ME ON MY 91st BIRTHDAY."

We had no service in the chapel on Sunday. Rev. Burgess said it was so foggy, he couldn't see out of his driveway.

The flu is raging here again, so many residents sick. As I write this letter, if we get many more sunny days like this, we'll all be feeling better.

Down at fun and fitness the 25th of February Amelia Good did win the game we did play.

Tuesday morning Julie Kennedy, Rev. John Phillips assistant, bless her heart, came and directed a very interesting service in the chapel. Rev. John came, but took no part.

Tuesday night to fulfil our entertainment was Fred Ballard's turn. Fred plays fine organ music and doesn't charge a dime.

A word about our laundry cleaners who take our dirty clothes we do shed. They wash them dry them and fold them up so nicely then put them on our beds.

Thursday afternoon came the Women's Association from Eagle Lake, brought and served a lovely lunch with a tasty birthday cake. They gave a birthday party for those who had birthdays in the month of February. We thank them for coming when they sang "God be with you till we meet again".

To call the bingo numbers along came Steven Crowe. They said he did a real good job and really wasn't slow. Some of the players' luck was really great, Milly Wood said she won five bingos and another lady won eight.

A very sacred day was held in the auditorium this first of March day, where things are brought by prayer this world dreams of, so don't forget to pray. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire outwardly expressed, a motion, a hidden fire that trembles in the breast. Fair as the burden of a sigh, the falling of a tree, the upper casting of the eye, when none but God is near.

P.S. Sincere sympathy from all here we would like to convey to family and relatives of Ethel Boice who has just passed away.

G.W. Martin honoured

A leading Canadian lumberman, aggressive and far-sighted in business, compassionate and caring in his community life, was posthumously awarded the highest honour the Canadian Lumbermen's Association can bestow upon its members - the prestigious CLA Wood award. The presentation was made during the 77th Annual Convention of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

The 1984 CLA Wood award went to Grenville Whitney Martin, late president of G.W. Martin Lumber Ltd., of Harcourt, Ontario. It is the first time in the 25 year history of the award, it was awarded posthumously.

Kimberley Martin, his daughter, Manager, Bracebridge Lumber Ltd., Division of G.W. Martin Wood Products Ltd., a pallet mill, accepted the award presented by CLA 2nd vice president James M. Hickey, during the Convention Industry

Luncheon before over 600 persons.

Mr. Hickey described the 1984 award winner "an entrepreneur in the classic mold" and outlined his meteoric rise within the industry and international markets and his untimely death at 48 in an aircraft accident last October.

Born in Bancroft, Ontario, Grenville Martin grew up to the sounds of his father's sawmill. After graduating from the NHLA school for hardwood lumber grading, Mr. Martin started his own sawmill in 1958. His mill's products were widely distributed across the country and in the international markets. G.W. Martin Lumber Co., presently operates 14 plants

Mr. C.R. Lindsay, vice-president, G.W. Martin Lumber Ltd., expressed appreciation to the CLA on behalf of the family and company.

OPP will drive with headlights on during day

All marked and unmarked Ontario Provincial Police vehicles are now being operated with headlights turned on 24 hours a day.

OPP Commissioner, Archie Ferguson, has ordered this move in the interest of safety and increased visibility of patrolling cruisers.

"We believe it will afford our people that extra measure of protection," said Commissioner Ferguson. "It will make our vehicles more visible, and we hope people will see the police cruiser and use extra caution."

Studies by organizations interested in highway safety have shown that vehicles using headlights during daylight hours have less chance of being involved in accidents. Those that were involved in accidents suffered less severe damage and injuries. One reason is that a vehicle with headlights on appears to be closer to the other driver. Also, they can be seen more easily in rear-view mirrors on heavily travelled highways or at longer distances on two-lane highways where cars are passing.

Bus and truck companies have been using headlights in the daytime for a number of years. The cost of using headlights in daylight hours is minimal, so other Ontario road users could easily follow the OPP example.

Commissioner Ferguson said: "Aside from increasing the safety factor for our officers, we believe that a more visible cruiser will prevent traffic violations by other highway users. As a result, our highways should be safer."
